

Editorial: Special Issue of Comparative & International Education
Society (CIES) ICT4D Special Interest Group (SIG)

Denise Gaspard-Richards
The University of the West Indies, Open Campus, Trinidad and Tobago

Welcome to Volume 16, Issue 3 of the International Journal of Education and Development using Information and Communication Technology (IJEDICT).

This Special Issue has been edited by guest editor Haijun Kang of Kansas State University. We thank Haijun for recommending the Issue and for his effort to pull the papers together. In this Issue we highlight the work of members of the Information and Communication Technology for Development (ICT4D) Special Interest Group (SIG) of the Comparative & International Education Society (CIES) – and explore the views of an interdisciplinary team of researchers and practitioners. Five articles are presented in this Special Issue and we obtain a view of ICT for development in diverse societies such as Kazakhstan, Mongolia, Mexico, and Korea.

We take the opportunity to remind potential authors of our journal guidelines that should be observed when submitting articles for publication. Your attention to the guidelines will better facilitate our review process and the timely publication of articles.

Stay safe and well!

Denise Gaspard-Richards
Chief Editor, IJEDICT

Copyright for articles published in this journal is retained by the authors, with first publication rights granted to the journal. By virtue of their appearance in this open access journal, articles are free to use with proper attribution, in educational and other non-commercial settings.